

15 Most Anticipated Hotel Openings Of 2014

January 8, 2014

Each year we see more and more luxury hotels popping up, urging us to plan our next getaway. Some have been on our radar for a few years, while others seemed to appear out of thin air. From a Parisian legend reopening after a two-year overhaul to a glitzy New York high rise, a spate of new glamorous hotels will welcome guests this year. Our Forbes Travel Guide editors scoured the globe to curate a list of 15 of the top hotel and resorts debuting in 2014.

United States

Baccarat Hotel & Residences New York, photo courtesy Baccarat New York

Susan Magrino Agency
352 Park Avenue South, 13 FL
New York, NY 10010
212.957.3005
www.smapr.com

Baccarat Hotel & Residences New York

Commemorating the famous crystal company's 250th anniversary, this dazzling 50-story hotel will open its doors in late 2014. The moment you walk in, you'll be greeted with elegance—in the form of 12,000 Baccarat glass pieces, of course. The opulence is seamlessly woven throughout the 114-room hotel: The Grand Salon will flaunt handmade custom chandeliers and custom Baccarat-designed club chairs, while the guest rooms feel more like a modern Parisian apartment than a New York City hotel room, thanks to the abundant seating and Baccarat pieces made exclusively for the hotel. Unwind in the private spa and you'll be transported from the hectic city life to the serene Côte d'Azur. Located across the street from MoMA, just off Fifth Avenue, it's only proper that Baccarat Hotel & Residences boast a divine restaurant; a fine-dining eatery is in the works and will be situated off the entrance lobby.